Free Weekend Food Program

Available to any family who could benefit from additional food options for their child during weekends, Brookline Thrives is offering weekend food packs.

Here's how it works:

- 1 Fill out the form below by September 17 so Brookline Thrives knows you're interested. Registration is not required to participate, but this helps determine how many weekly packs to provide. No proof of financial need is required.
- 2 Starting Friday, September 21, you or your child can pick up a Brookline Thrives weekend food pack at Lincoln's main lobby. Inside an unmarked brown bag, you'll find two breakfast items, two lunch items, and snacks and drinks for one child for the weekend. Foods will NOT require refrigeration.
- 3 Every Friday throughout the school year, pick up the next weekend food pack. Students or parents never need to sign in. Just grab a bag and go. One weekend pack per student. (If your family does not need the program, kindly reserve weekend packs for those who do.)

The Brookline Thrives weekend food program is being piloted at the Lincoln School in 2018-19. If successful, we will bring it to additional Brookline public schools in future years.

Keeping Kids Fueled for Learning

Brookline Thrives works in partnership with the Public Schools of Brookline to provide food for the weekend to students in need. Our goal is to reduce the number of Brookline students starting the school week hungry.
